LEAH Cotterell and Phil Manning (pictured above) have been getting into the swing of things for the third annual Powers Jazz and Blues Festival next month. The week-long Festival, starting September 23, will be centred on the riverside venues of City Rowers Tavern in Eagle Street Pier and Fridays on the Water in the Riverside Centre. The free music feast will see some of Australia's best exponents of jazz and blues, alongside international artists such as New York jazz vocalist Vanessa Rubin and showman Big Jay McNeely.
